

My friends,

Aside from continuing preparations for my future release, I seek to form an alliance with and build a network of like minded individuals. I do not seek monetary compensation, only friendship; something I took for granted in my past, pointers and guidance and assistance in my e-self-publishing endeavors, which will not cost you a penny to assist me in the areas that I need assistance in.

I have written as many as ⁶⁰58 books and short stories and would like to join a community of friends who would not mind in the least assisting me. Some of these books/stories have been typed and edited to the best of my skill level.

Though, I have written Paranormal, Horror, fantasy, Science Fiction, Suspense, Urban, and so forth, nothing has given me more joy or pleasure as writing children's/preteen books but to write and to be published is two entirely different things.

If you would like to assist me, with "not one penny of cost to you" please feel free to contact me at the address on my home page or simply correspond through my blog.

You can also go to <http://www.smashwords.com/books/view/318166> and read (for free) a portion of my first (in series) grade school fantasy book "Newby Newton and The Jellybean Tower

Thank you my friends and I look forward to hearing from you. Look for excerpts of upcoming books on my blog page. Tell me what you think, like and or did not like about what you've read. You do not have to be a writer nor assist me in my publishing fight to join me as part of my social network. All are encouraged to contact me, no matter your background.

Keith
