

"The Lord said, 'It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a helper who is just right for him.' - Genesis 2:18

One of the greatest experiences a person will ever enjoy is being wanted by another person. To be needed, desired, and wanted is the supreme antidote for loneliness, depression, sadness, and low self esteem. I seek a woman who knows what she wants and wants what she knows. If you see what you want, why not take a risk? You have to know what you want, how you want it, when you want it. You have to know exactly what the needs of your body are, what the needs of your mind are, and what fits well with you. You should be honest with yourself, and honest with everyone else. Project what you feel you really are, and don't pretend to be what you are not. It's as if you are in a market. You are going to sell yourself and you are also going to buy. In order to buy, you want to see the quality of what you are to get. But in order to sell, you need to show others what you are. It isn't about being better or worse than someone else. It's about being what you are.

I believe if you are in a relationship and you work your half, and your partner works with their half, you will see how quickly progress is made. Love is what makes you happy, and if you become the servant of love, and your partner becomes the servant of love, you can just imagine all the possibilities. The day will come when you can be with your partner with no guilt, blame, anger, and sadness. Only to share, only to love, only to serve, and only to give.

If you can love your partner the way they are, if you can open your heart completely to your partner, you can reach heaven through love. I've learned once you decide to be a couple, you are there to serve the one you love, the one you choose. You are there to serve your love to your lover, to be each other's servant in every kiss, in every touch, you feel you are there to please the one you love without expecting anything back. More than sex, it's about being together. The sex becomes wonderful also, but it's so completely different. Sex becomes a communion, sex becomes a complete surrendering, a dance, an art, a supreme expression of beauty.

When we see opportunities, we must have the courage to pursue them and not be afraid to take risks. I try to end each day saying, 'I'm glad I did', rather than, 'I wish I had'. I think if we let go of the past hurts and begin every day at a higher level of love, this will keep the fire alive and make your love grow even more. If you love yourself, if you practice doing your best, very soon it becomes a habit. Love is not about concepts, love is about action. Love in action can only produce happiness. Fear in action can only produce suffering. I believe the more love we have, the more love we can share and receive. To give to one another and receive from one another is the purpose of a relationship.

"To love and win is the best thing. To love and lose is the next best thing." - William Thackeray

Love, Prince