

Finding your Soul Mate? Is That out of Date?

Readers Im 40 years old "My God" these years have crept up on me. Ive been in several short term relationships and one very short marriage. in which I fooled even myself. I believe everyone is looking for Love. But Id like to believe there is someone special for me and I just havent found her yet because Im waiting for my soulmate! to me this is beginning to sound "old" the word literally scares me for fear that Ill never find her or for fear I am just living in a fairy tale.

My idea is Id meet a woman that captures my being one I could not take my eyes off of. but its not just about beauty Its about getting everything you put in it! and getting it in return without qualm.

I hear most women wait for her special
Man to ride in on a Black Stallion. <sup>o</sup>
Couldn't I have her ride in on a pegasus I've realized my mistakes in the passed we see someone that we would want for our Soulmates and try to force the union although there is chemistry we ruin it by trying to jump in head first and find out later that it sure as heck was a mistake. <sup>o</sup>

"Alot" today are free spirits Its not hard to guess what I mean! Ladies am I living in a fantasy or should I give it up and join the Club, will Misses Right ever pop up?

I've lived a free spirited life and I find it no longer amuses me there's got to be more to it than merely Lust! I can't remember to much courtship.