Tell Me Why

Monday 7/21/2014 I listen to the radio as a escape mechanism to imagine life outside prison walls of confinement.

The pseudo reality of mainstream news comes on and disrupts the serenity of daydreaming.

1st I hear that the trial is about to begin about the killing of a young Black woman under the influence of alcohol who after a traffic/car accident walked up to a strangers house for assistance and was shot + killed by the resident. The resident was white as was the neighborhood. The young Black woman was not. Incident happened one/two years past.

Next story concerns an African American man in New York City who police questioned about selling Black MKT cigarettes. A dispute ensued, 5 or 6 white male cops sat on the man beat him down on the sidewalk in a strangle hold. He cried out, 'I can't breathe' and a second later he was dead. He was unarmed. In the neighborhood he was known as the gentle giant. Now he is another deceased Black man whose life was stolen by urban soldiers of authority. A video of the incident has gone viral.

Next story is about the Mexican standoff at site of commercial jetliner disaster in Ukraine. Deceased bodies of innocent civilians some children on their way to holiday or major conference on AIDS. A few of the top AIDS researchers were on board when the airliner was shot down by a anti A/C missile. There are no survivors, bodies lay strewn across a wide field in weeds, underbrush + tall sunflower plants. The folly of War and the misery that is a result of that folly. Finally I hear a definitive description of the war in which Israel is wreaking havoc on Palestine. Palestinians the 'Niggers' of the middle east as defined by how they are allowed to be treated by World Powers who do not stand up and demand that both countries adhere to law which both refuse to abide by.

I hear of children and infants in Gaza who are paralyzed, missing limbs, 80% of body with 3rd° burns. Children who since they were born have known only a succession of war + are now orphans.

From my vantage point I see a huge social tsunami approaching that will result in catastrophic Wipe Out!
