Roxanne

The boot situation, the Fisherman, didn't have boots. The Prosecutor lied about that. The other pair of boots were in the truck, I didn't pull them off of him.

IF you see something and you think I'm lying bring it up. I don't lie, have no reason to. I was stupid for all of this, made bad decisions mainly due to drugs and alcohol.

The helicopter story, I'd like to write about it. But if I told you that story you would swear up and down that I'm lying, it's that crazy! But here's the reason I won't write about it. Two of the guys that were involved in that, are on the list to be executed. They don't need that type of attention, see I wasn't suppose to be involved in that. There was 5 other men planning that escape, two of them broke away from that group of 5 when it went wrong in 1998. And one approached me, that's how I wound up in it.

The sex charge is something that happened when I was 16 year's old. Not something that I care to address. I could lie to you, but I won't if I'm not willing to tell the truth, then I'm not going to discuss it.

you'll see a bunch more legal documents popping up on the blog. IF you have questions about this ask. Please take care.

God bless you
In Peace + Love
