

IT'S LADIES POWER DAY IN THE STATE OF WISCONSIN POLITICAL OFFICE

MADISON, WISCONSIN, THE AUGUST 27,
2014, AUTHORITATIVE LAW SCHOOL
POLL WAS RELEASED.

IT SHOWS AS REPORTED:

OUR STATE TWO HIGHEST OFFICE
SEEKERS ARE POSED TO MAKE HER-STORY.

IN 2012, WISCONSIN ELECTED ITS
FIRST OPENLY GAY FEMALE HON. TAMMY
BALDWIN (WIS. D) TO THE U.S.
SENATE.

HON. MARY BURKE (D) RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR OPPOSING REPUBLICAN
NATIONALLY FAMOUS CONSERVATIVE HON.
GOVERNOR SCOTT WALKER ...

MS. BURKE has consistently matched Gov. Walker in the polls. ON JULY 25, 2014, she was 45% to his 46%, among registered voters.
"HERE AND NOW" PBS WAT. ORG C
WHATV 21 MADISON] JULY 25, 2014 FRIDAY
7:30 A.M. CDT.

Now in the August 27, 2014 she has achieved what no previous Governor or atial opponent^v has, i.e., the 49% to 47% lead.

And the Hon. SUSAN HAPP (D.) Wing for the open State Attorney General opposing the Hon. Republican candidate Fred Schmiel.

She now enjoys a very comfortable 10 percentage points at 42% to his 32% among registered voters - lead.

BURKE ENJOYS A 4 PERCENTAGE POINT LEAD OVER GOV. WALKER ON FAVOR-
ABILITY... AT 50% TO 46.8%.

Yet 68% of registered voters claim they: "...do not know Mary Burke."

IN PREVIOUS ELECTIONS 2010 AND 2012 RECALL ELECTION WALKER ALWAYS LEAD OPPONENT CANDIDATE CUR-RENT MILWAUKEE MAYOR (D.) TOM BARRETT IN THE POLLS.

CURRENTLY, CREDIBLE, WINNABLE
CANDIDATE MARY BURKE APPEARS
POSED TO BECOME WISCONSIN FIRST;
WISCONSIN ELECTED GOVERNOR!

HÖORAY!!

SOURCE: WISC NEWS.COM #NEWS 3,
CHANNEL 2000.COM AUGUST 28, 2014
THURSDAY 4:30 A.M.; PBS WPT.ORG
[WHAZI MADISON] 'HERE AND NOW'
AUGUST 29, 2014 FRIDAY 7:30 A.M.
CAPITAL CITY SUNDAY. WKOK.COM CAP-
CITY SUNDAY (D) WKOK.COM AUGUST
31, 2014 9: A.M. CDT.

NOTES:

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES:

HON. MARY BURKE (D)

FOR WISCONSIN FIRST LADY GOVERNOR
OFFICE 49% IN THE POLL

HON. SUSAN HARRIS (D)

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL OFFICE
42% IN THE POLL

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

GOVERNOR SCOTT WALKER
FOR RE-ELECTION TO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
47% IN THE POLL
HON

HON. FRED SCHMIEL
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL OFFICE
[OFFICE OPEN. CURRENT OFFICEHOLDER NOT RUNNING FOR RE-ELECTION]
32% IN THE POLL

NEXT MARQUETT LAW SCHOOL IS SET FOR RELEASE IN MIDSEPTEMBER
ELECTION IN NOVEMBER 2014

MORE BELOW: PGS. 6-7

BY: LEON IRBY DATED:

SEPTEMBER 9, 2014
5 of 7

Send to old news now!

Defeat the King of Filibusters  Retire Mitch McConnell
SIGN THE PETITION

Log In | Sign Up | Join the Action Alert list! | Help

PEOPLE GROUPS DIARIES TAGS LABOR COMICS ELECTIONS ECON RADIO

Search GO

 Puddytat Follow RSS
Daily Kos member
Profile Diaries (list) Stream

Subscribe or Donate to support Daily Kos.

TUE MAY 20, 2014 AT 12:46 PM PDT

Scott Walker Caught in Another Big, Fat Lie

Puddytat

Like Tweet Email 87 Comments / 87 New

He's running for President re-election as Wisconsin Governor, donchaknow, so the propaganda he spews is becoming even more ridiculous as he scrambles to avoid talking about the 250,000 jobs he didn't create (move along, nothing to see here, peasants).

At first he tried to backtrack on his one promise in 2010: that he, if elected Governor, would create 250,000 jobs in his first term. That, in his own words, was "the floor and not the ceiling" since he expected to "create" many more in his first term. He's not quite halfway there because of the austerity economy that he and his Republican Legislative majorities has put in place. He failed miserably trying to walk it back (scrubbing it from his web site and other places as well as trying hard to change the subject every time "the jobs question" comes up).

His latest failure is trying to pivot from "jobs" to "business creation". At campaign events he's patting himself on the back for "creating" 17,000 new businesses in Wisconsin. So shameless is this assertion that even his pals at PolitiFact and the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel have called him out on it.

The problem they've exposed is how the numbers have been extensively padded solely to benefit Walker. They've been exaggerated to the point that Walkers numbers are simply a lie.

From PolitiFact in Wisconsin:

But his impressive-sounding talking point -- that 17,000 new ready-to-hire businesses have sprung up on his watch -- crumbles upon examination.

The count of newly registered "business entities" that Walker touts includes not only new ventures that bring new jobs, but thousands with no workers on the payroll at all -- and little if any prospect of hires to come.

An analysis by PolitiFact Wisconsin found Walker's count includes:

-- Hundreds of nonprofit organizations, often volunteer-run, including Scout troops, condo associations, youth sports leagues, volunteer fire departments, historical societies, "friends" fundraising groups, scholarship funds and many more.

NO MORE SECRETS: DEMAND THAT KOCH-BACKED FRONT GROUPS DISCLOSE THEIR DONORS!

SIGN THE PETITION >>

DIARY RECOMMENDED BY

- RECOMMENDED BY PUDDYTAT
- Unconfused and Unrepentant
by rservern 33/33 New 40 Recs
 - Top Comments: Trigger Warnings Edition
by brillig 94/94 New 52 Recs
 - Tony Perkins' reaction to Pennsylvania marriage equality ruling is comedy gold by Steveningen 183/183 New 292 Recs
 - Marriage Equality in Pennsylvania: UPDATE
by Dave in Northridge 32/32 New 69 Recs
 - OWS Activist Cecily McMillan sentenced to 3 months jail, 5 years probation and a $5,000 fine by rebel ga 37/37 New 26 Recs
 - Condolences to Rep. Louise Slaughter (NY-25) on her husband's death by ipsos 10/10 New 45 Recs
 - Explosive: Is WI GOP Operative Brian Sikma's Church More Racist Than Westboro Baptist?
by Lizwoodhouse 6/6 New 9 Recs
 - Northrop Grumman Fraudulently Overcharges US Govt. $100 Million
by ericlewis0 17/17 New 37 Recs

GAF7

- Thousands of limited-liability companies set up by real-estate investors solely to hold ownership of property or properties. Even investors as far away as Australia are on the list because they bought Wisconsin rental properties.
- Out-of-state firms that registered in Wisconsin because they may want to do work here.
- Startups that are just getting organized and not yet able to pay employees.

(bolding is mine)

That's right! Start a Boy Scout troupe and you've just "created a business" which Walker will add to his massive count. New volunteer Fire Department? Hey, there's another "new business" "created" under Walker. Put together of "Friends of (insert name of candidate here) for fundraising and media ads - wow! Another "new business".

With "businesses" like those, it's no surprise it's a massive list.

The Journal-Sentinel editorialized on the ridiculousness of those phony numbers.

That's not what you'd think, to hear the governor tell it. Walker has suggested that all of the new entities he has recently cited are producing jobs or soon will be. As PolitiFact noted, Walker told a Door County business group in April: "On average — some will do more, some will do less — but if in the next year or so they each add up to 10 new employees, you add that to the more than 100,000 new jobs we've created and you see we surpass 250,000 new jobs."

Walker's goal, of course, is to deflect attention from his most high-profile campaign promise: The governor promised that Wisconsin companies would create 250,000 net new jobs during his first term. The latest scorecard shows 105,800 jobs have been created, and even the governor's most ardent supporters realize that he won't be able to fulfill his promise by the end of his term in January.

They end with:

The state needs to do whatever it can to reasonably and responsibly promote business creation. That serves the interests of the state and its citizens. Stretching the truth, as the governor is doing in this case, serves no one but himself.

Ouch. That one's going to leave a mark, particularly when that editorial appeared in the Sunday edition, the most widely read newspaper of the week.

What Walker refuses to recognize is that his failure to "create" 250,000 new jobs is entirely his fault, along with the GOP dominated Legislature. Wisconsin would have had those jobs at the pace we were at before Walker was sworn in.

The state did better than most of the nation after the 2008 economic collapse and were recovering at a decent pace in 2010. But one of Walker's very first actions (cancelling the high speed rail line between Milwaukee and Madison) sent Wisconsin's economy back. Gone were the jobs to build the rail line which was completely funded by the Federal Government. Also gone was the new factory (and the hundreds of high paying jobs) that Talgo was preparing to build in Milwaukee to manufacture high speed rail cars. Not only do we not have those jobs, but Talgo's facilities in Milwaukee were also recently shut down for good with the loss of existing high paying jobs.

After that, Act 10 took money from public employees as their paychecks, already low from giving up pay for well over a decade to retain benefits, were further gleaned to "pay for" benefits. Slashing state revenue sharing meant that local governments were laying off teachers and workers as their budgets were smashed with that financial loss (they were prohibited in Act 10 from raising property taxes to make up the shortfall).

Losses of jobs and lower paychecks meant less money in local economies that forced many businesses to close. Those closures simply added to the financial decline that continues today.

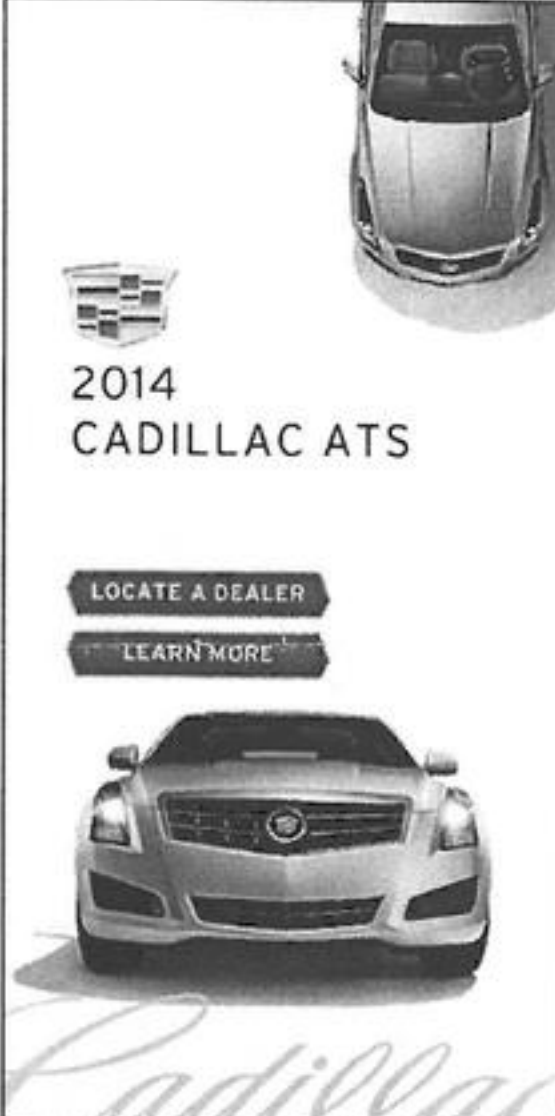

Life in FitzWalkerKochStan isn't easy. Having a Governor that lies about it makes it worse. And the lies are getting bigger and bolder since he's running for President re-election.

AR-Gov: Asa Hutchinson (R) Turned Away from Polls Because of Voter ID Law

by poopdogcomedy 99/99 New 326 Recs

Failure of Op. American Spring Blamed on... Glenn Beck

by HamptonRoadsProgressive 60/60 New 108 Recs

2014
CADILLAC ATS

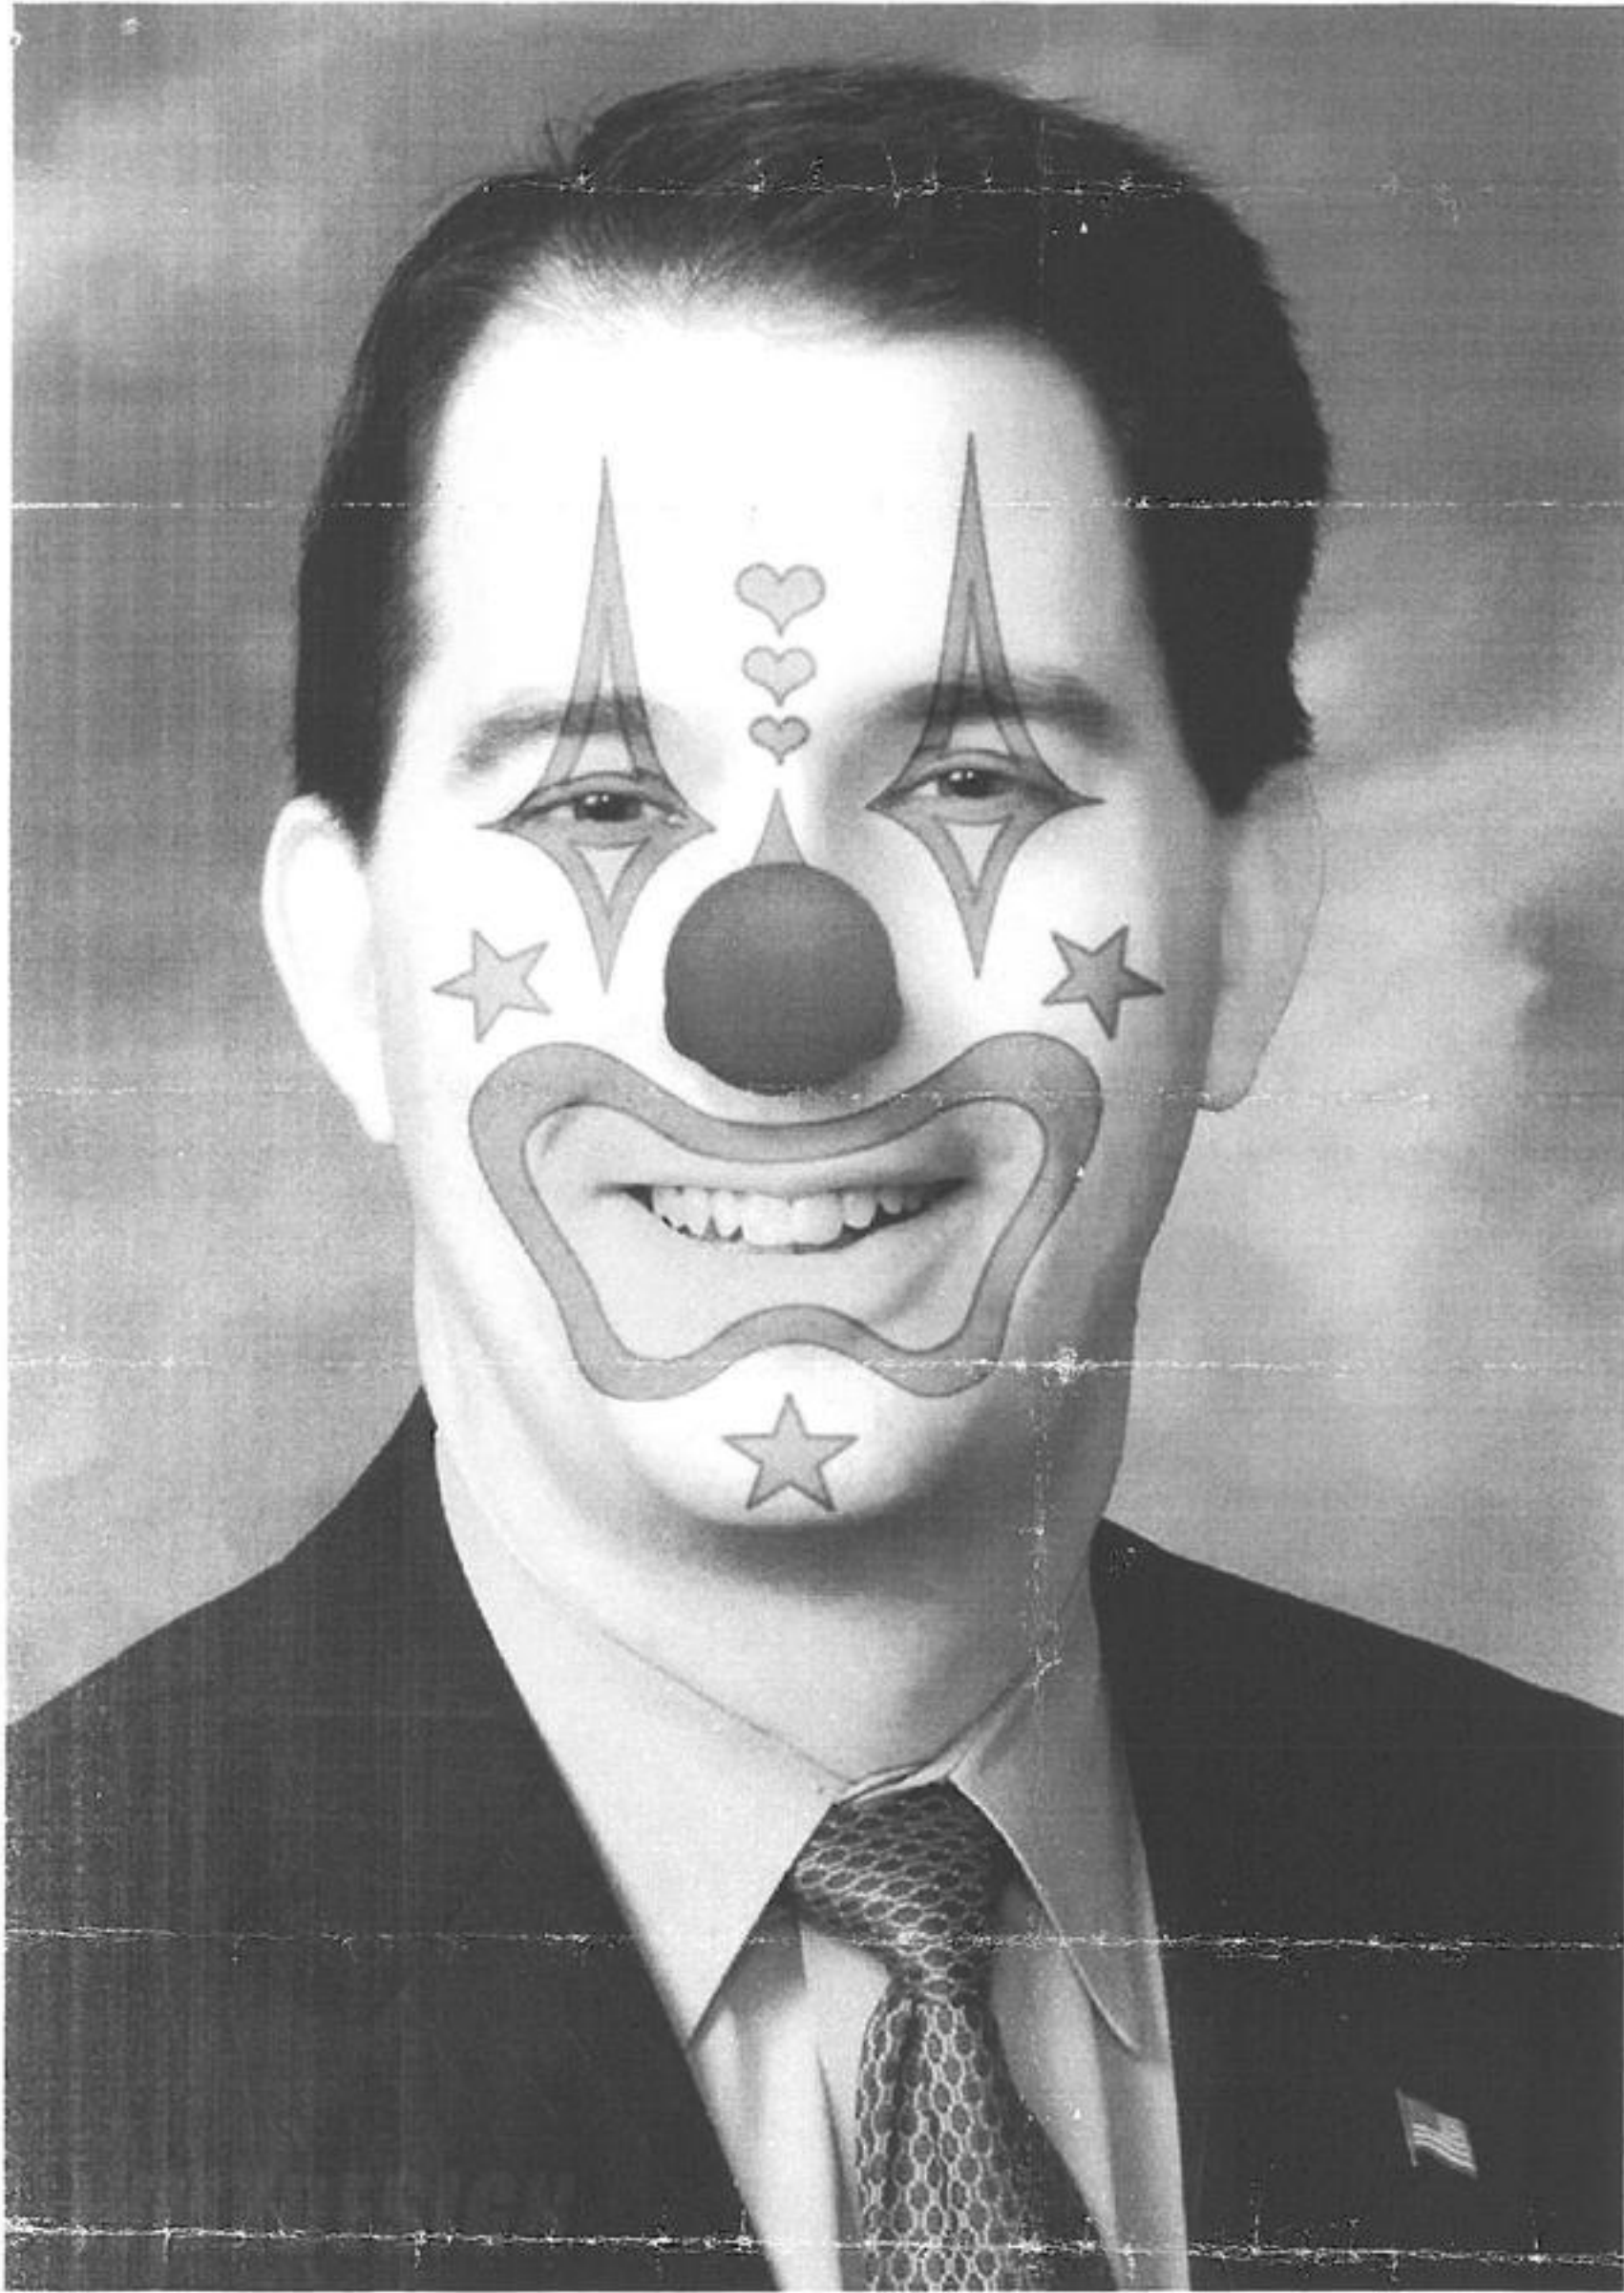

LOCATE A DEALER

LEARN MORE

Cadillac

NUBBY2ATS TAGS

- 2012 Election Diary Rescue (636)
- Budget Repair Bill (206)
- Cranky Users (294)
- DK4 (1664)
- Fok News (93)
- Keith Olbermann (4374)
- Labor (24163)
- Protests (3123)
- Public Employees (580)
- Scott Walker (8118)
- Unions (12292)
- Wisconsin (18801)
- Workers (1889)

7047