

To Be A Man

September 25, 2014

To be a man is to possess the strength to love others without controlling them.

To be a man is to experience the courage to accept another, rather than the need to be powerful and to give orders.

To be a man is to keep faith with human values in relationships, not to value oneself by position or possessions.

To be a man is to be free to give love and to accept love in return.

To be a man requires self-sacrificing love.

Self-sacrificing love always wants the best for another.

It accepts the other as a person of worth and value.

It seeks to help that person grow and develop.

It does not reach down to the one loved.

It stands alongside on a give-receive basis.

Jesus Christ was and is the Perfect example of how to be a self-sacrificing Man.
