I always enjoy reading all your comments. This blog has given me a positive lifeline to the outside world.

I love you guys' "computer names". 😊
Each name seems unique.

Joy - sounds like a woman, nice lady.

Avalon - I think this person is a young man, maybe in college.

Alex V. Powers - Definitely a guy! 😊 Heart of Gold!

lovelylady44 - I actually know this person. She knows that I'm always thinking about her, even if I forget to mention her name in a blog every now and then. 😊 bluelotus - Not sure if this is male or female person. Definitely someone who likes music. For some reason, I think this person is a guy.

rowand783 - Everytime I see this name I always wonder what the "2783" stands for. Could be a birthday or anything.

mandysavage - Sounds exactly like "randy savage". 😊

ESLER - Said she was a high school teacher. Although her name is "Elaine", I still can't figure out what "ESLER" stands for. 😊

Meganselby - I think I know who she is. 😊

Foltaj - Sounds like a guy, maybe in college, but could even be a gal. Everytime I write this name out it seems like I've spelled it wrong, but I always spell it right.

Stardust201 - Don't have a clue who this could be. Maybe someone into astronomy or the stars, etc. Or maybe I'm just saying that because of the word "stardust". The number "201" is a New Jersey area code, maybe that has something to do with it. 😊

Edzell - Sounds like a guy. Sounds like a mixture of a first and last name. But could actually simply be a first name.

Asiq - At first I thought this read "Asis", but I found out that that couldn't be because of the "q" at the end.

Elisabeth S. - I know who this person is. Nice woman. Comment really touched me.

TonyDoylestown - This person thinks he knows me from my old ticket scalping days. I don't remember him but it's possible that we may have crossed paths. I have been to Doylestown right by Philly.

CJP - I'm guessing this is an initial of a woman. She leaves really good/sincere comments.

nkibaptiste - Don't have a clue who this is - I asked him or her to be pen pals with me about a year ago, still no letter, not even a postcard. 😊

Cpadilla - Don't know who this is but they left a very interesting comment. It made me put myself in others shoes. It's not easy trying to defend numerous people in court. So this was a very interesting comment.

Keep the comments coming. It's really good to see other people's point of view.

Some of the computer/user names I could use:

phillyguy

tixscalper

PhillyMike21871 (my birthday)

twoyearsleft (out of prison in 2 years)

MiracleMike (my alternative to violence name)

I don't have access to the internet, but I'm trying my best to learn. 😊 Love and Respect (L&R)
