

Hello to Everyone that follows My Blogs I haven't written in a while because we been really busy. I don't recall writing of my past experience but, I'd once been a Trustee this is where we can go out beyond the fences without an escort. I'd actually achieved one of the highest positions available Warden's boy its a job where I'd actually worked at the Warden's house I'd take out the trash, feed the dog, and do a lot of yard work Its where I grew my first Garden I'd work at his house all day alone

In prison when we do not have family to help us financially we have to find others ways to support ourselves Its one of the reasons I learned to draw other ways are like washing clothes, making cakes, cleaning other peoples shoes and sewing.

Some bring in tobacco from the outside in which they've had someone drop off and its illegal and pays really well on one can of Dip a person could make $100⁰⁰ verses my selling a card for $1.00. 3, is the most I can do in one day and im not always guaranteed a SALE well I was approached and already frustrated because I couldn't sell cards and I was just so tired of being without it absolutely sucks anyway I'd worked so hard to obtain my position and took pride in my work

Eventually I broke down and started selling tobacco for several months life was easier inside here until eventually I'd gotten caught I was basted down to medium custody lost 60 days and received a year set-off in parole was shipped I'd had to work my way back up from medium custody for 6 months which was the hardest part then I had to wait an additional 6 months to receive my Line Class S3, surprisingly 2 weeks afterward the computer recommended my trustee class back once again C and I'm now proud to say that I now hold the second best job on the unit front office only 3 of us out of the 1,500 are trusted enough and considered adequate

I'm just proud of my accomplishment and wanted to share it ~~at~~ with all of you I always look forward to your responses and enjoy hearing from you all

And (No) C I definitely want to screw this one up like I did before

Although my position is still the same we learned to just live without and be content with anything I can make I want you to understand that simply acquiring my status isn't simple we have to go

Before a Board of people they first determine if we are eligible, Secondly we have to maintain a certain expectation while being incarcerated this is staying out of disciplinary trouble which isn't easy we can't have any heinous crimes in our past like Agg. Assault, murders, sex crimes ect... or escape risk or be on psych case load then after the unit board approval it's sent to houston for the state approval. the only thing we can given credit for is like a few months earlier release on our Discharge Date's. the State of Texas gives prisoners extra time for Trustee Status kinda like County Jails or sitting out a ticket that's why they do not pay us for working the extra time is helpful if you have a short sentence but if not it really doesn't help because you'll have to go before another Board each year. or your file does shall I say it's not like the movies " Anyway I just wanted to share a little with you all some are curious how things are done here in prison I wish you all well till next time Take Care!
