

Ronald W. Clark
November 9, 2014

THE FLORIDA DEPT. OF
CORRUPTION Page 1 of 2

I'm trying to change, the unchangeable. I'm trying to bring change, into an environment, that resist and fight's change. I'm trying to bring human decency, into a place, that deplores and rejects human decency. And that place is, no other than, THE FLORIDA DEPT. OF CORRUPTION, where they tell their correctional officers upon training, "Forget all that crap you heard, and learned, we will show you how its done." yeah, they show their officers, how to break rules and laws. Teach them to be good criminals, work under the guise of lawfulness, under the guise of protecting the united states constitution, while committing criminal acts. yes, this is, the unlawful Fla Dept. of corrections, turned corruption. where human Rights and human decency, are nasty words. God Forbid mercy and compassion on human beings in this hell hole. They want their correctional officers to be the worst of the worst. Ride that fence, of the criminal mind set.

Two of our staff from P-Dorm are currently incarcerated, they took their criminal mind set and activity into the free world, outside these fences and walls that protected them as criminal correctional officers. Officer Wagner is in Starke Fl. County jail for killing his girl friend and burning her body to cover it up. Sgt. Permentor is currently housed at Fla. state prison behind a closed door isolation cell for molesting his daughters and then trying to hire a hit man to kill his wife and daughters. I witnessed both of them men violate laws inside this building and

Ronald H. Cluckey
November 9, 2014

Page 2 of 2
The Florida
Dept of Corruption.

a blind eye was turned to it. I've been assaulted by correctional officers. I've witnessed other inmates being assaulted. I've witnessed false Disciplinary Reports, seen officers deal drugs, bring in contraband to trade for death row art, that will one day be very valuable. But if you know what's best, you better keep your mouth shut. Cause reprisal is a son of a bitch!" Been there, done that. Warden Barry Reddish's DUT allegations of a cover up. Nothing like being in the hands of an unlawful tyrant who can do any thing he wants without repercussion, for he is above and beyond the law, inside these fences and walls, of the Florida Dept of Corruption!

yes, I'm trying to change the unchangeable. I'm trying to bring positive change into an environment that resist and fights change. I'm trying to bring human decency, and lawfulness, into a place, that deplores and rejects human decency, lawfulness mercy and compassion and that place is, as we all know. "THE FLORIDA DEPT OF CORRPTION" change is over due. In one man, one voice but I will be heard! I will make a difference. For can't, never could do a damn thing. yes I can, yes I will.

Respectfully submitted
From the brutal world
of The Fla. Dept of Corruption

Ronald H. Cluckey
November 9, 2014