

POST TWO

TIME: All of me

Nov. 22, 2014

February 6, 2004... The day that my life really began. You came into this world, made me feel special. I never thought that I could feel like that until I saw you in your mother's arms. The love I felt was so overwhelming. I felt real love the day you looked at me, held my finger, and smiled at me. Quasin, I love more than anything in this world and to be away from you hurts me to my soul. I will never forget the seconds, minutes, hours that we spent together. You are so precious to me. I love you more and more with each passing day. At this point, I want to steady myself, become a better father to you, become a real father. My life has been so funny that it doesn't merit words. I chose to lead this life I chose out of necessity, the necessity to feel. I was hard headed, stubborn and irrational in my thinking, thought I had it all figured out, but really, I didn't have a clue. You are my pride and joy. I have asked God that he allow my another chance to connect with you again. I want to watch you grow into the beautiful woman I know will be and I want to be there to help you, through the tough times the life will bring your way on your path to womanhood. I love you babygirl with all of my heart. Hopefully our relationship will grow, blossom and strengthen with test of time. I pray that when you are old enough to understand, you will forgive me for my absence. You are my lifeline and I need you in my life. I wanna talk to you, hear what you are going through, see you smile. I want to hear you laugh, see you happy. Daddy has found out a lot about himself since I let hold you in my arms. I now know what I want to be as a man, as a father. I want to contribute like I'm supposed to.

The One thing that I never wanted to be the Worthless Father. I never had a Father and I wanted to be the best father I could be. I didn't know how to be a father, I just knew I wanted to love you like I have never been able to be loved. I don't blame anyone for my mistakes, Everything is on me.

Baby, I am trying to change, trying to become a better person. I am trying to become a better man within myself, and trying to become the man the God needs me to be in order to be productive in life. I want to lose the negativity in me that I have. I want to be positive. I have a lot of growing to do in general, with my thinking and reactions to certain situations. God has brought me this for a reason and I don't wanna let you down anymore than I already have.

I write this Quesia to let you know that I love you. I do want to be apart of my life, I will never stop loving you. You are part of me. No, Quesia, baby, you're All of me. I hope your heart is open to receiving me. You are Daddy's Little Angel...

With All The Love in The World,

I Love You Forever and a day...

Love Daddy,
