

If we jump & don't make it, we go back to whence we came.

If we jump & make it,
all praise.

What if we jump & transform & become something greater,
& learn something amazing?

When we jump let come whatever may.
Nothing should ever stay the same.

We jump b/c we crave danger,
it's in our nature.

Do you jump or stay?
