- CORRUPTIONAL OFFICERS "DISGUISE IDENTITY" / READ PRISONER BLOGS
OR

"WE ARE LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD MEN FOR HARM'S WAY SOLITAIRE SERVICE"

In an ongoing exhibition of true cowardice a guard working for the Department of Corruption continues to abandon any semblance of a life and spends hours reading prisoner blogs. To quote this Hero of the Computer Solitaire Wars "After spending a distinguished career putting myself in harm's way (I just threw up in my mouth a little) I have to read this bile..." No you don't. Stick with the porn you undoubtedly search and refrain from your soulless envy of what a simple convict puts into print. No one could possibly hate the writings that much if they continue to read them week in and week out. What a sad life. I guess the ski slopes are closed, the bowling alleys are shut down, the YMCA has closed the gym and pool, and the soup kitchen and shelter no longer need volunteers. All that is left to do with the shell of a life you live is to read prisoner blogs. Sure, you know Joe Lab, Ken S., and Tim M., and have a right to your opinion, but it is unbelievable that ones world has been reduced to opining about the lives/efforts/work of men in prison. Sad, very sad. You are a true cyber Sad Sack.

The Department is looking for a few men to hide behind a fake name and computer log-on handle. Never sign your work as then you would be taking a real stand. Use a fake name, issue idle threats you know you could never carry out, your mouth is so used to writing checks your ass could never cash, and hide behind the coward's veil of secrecy that is the internet. Men with a lot more to lose than you "sign their names" as they truly stand behind their ideology. Dream up scenarios of being in "harm's way" (and I'm a narcissist?) while your carpal tunnel syndrome limits your hours of computer solitaire. Pay your bill for "Porn Heros of Secrecy" and keep logging on to the writings of prisoners. Just do your best to accept the fact that your "ilk" has the highest suicide rate in all of law enforcement, the highest alcoholism in all of law enforcement, as well as the highest domestic violence rate in all of law enforcement. Wonder why? I guess keeping men/women in cages for a living erodes the soul. Your "layman's psychology" is always appreciated, but I think Jung and Freud would find your facination with prisoner blogs and intersting topic. Avoid the noose, take another sip of your beer, and click that mouse with your mask on. You are well hidden! Remember what Mark Twain said, "If you want to see the dregs of the society and scum of the earth go down to your local prison and watch the changing of the guard." Nuff said.

- MCI SHIRLEYWORLD CONVICTS DESERVE PAT ON BACK / WON'T GET IT

I would like to thank the prisoners here at ShirleyWorld who work the walks and grounds crew. They did a great job of clearing away the snow which there has been so much of this month. For their truly meager wages ($2.00 per day) they were getting up at 4:AM and working 10, 12, or more hours per day. Most of them did not complain as they battled high winds and bitter cold; but their biggest battle may have been dealing with the "King Of Walks and Grounds" as he is a real humanitarian and shining example of human compassion in action(NOT!). These guys truly deserve a pat on the back, but they won't get it from the prison administration as they view us all as slaves. In the old days, a phrase I seldom use, they guards would feed cons culinary food and give them cigarettes if they did extra duty. A big feed would be had by all and it gave men something to look forward to. Today when a man comes in from the freezing cold shoveling duty a guard tries to deny him a shower! Sad but true. No extra food, no cigarette, no pat on the back, just your pittance of pay and a good cough from the frigid weather. I applaud them though; and I thank them. I was able to trod a clear path over to the law library to study how to fight the administration. I cannot think of a better winter activity. I have been able to summon up the calvary in the fight for injustice, which I am turning up to "11" as we write, and their work toward getting out onto the "walks and grounds" to do so is greatly appreciated. Neither snow, rain, dark of night, or fat cushioned prison administrators (in between computer solitaire games) will stop the fight for justice! Thank you ShirleyWorld snow shovelers! Just be certain to protect yourself from Whiskey laden snow-blower drivers wearing badges!

- DIRECTOR OF SECURITY HANDS-OF-SIN MOVES ON THE GREENER PASTURES

The Chinese water torture that is working for Deputy Denied-Oh finally eroded the cranial shell of our Director Of Security (that sounds like a title right out of the Third Reich does it not?) Mr. "Paul" Hands-Of-Sin has moved on to the greener pastures of NCCI GardnerWorld where he will again have to accommodate the needs of the GID population, but to a much larger extend. If he is lucky "Charlene" will share some of his/her lip gloss with him. I guess DOS Hands-Of-Sin had enough of the SS "Do You Know Who I am?" Ship Deputy Denied-Oh runs (while Superintendent Rubber Stamp Wry-On mans the helm of her Ivory Tower) and rather than "wrestle" her for control (I think she may be able to take him) he chose to depart with little fanfare or controversy. I would like to make a proposal that we need not replace Mr. "Paul" as the place seems pretty secure without him; except for maybe a Cheesecake Refrigerator or two being discovered) and they could just take his salary and build another fence, or wall, around the two that already surround this shithole. His legacy will live on; tearing stamps off of envelopes, making aged volunteers leave their coats in their cars in the winter, providing padlocks to lock up microwaves, and ensuring that the IPS Team takes most of their "security urine tests" from prisoners they know are clean so it looks like "they have a handle on the suboxone plague" Truth being that there are more dudes walking around here than at a 1970's Grateful Dead concert! Rubber Stamp Wry-On sings her version of "Keep On Truckin" as DOS Hands-Of-Sin tavel's the highways and byways over to GardnerWorld where he can once again work with Deputy "I Have a Dream"

Note-Ass who left a legacy here as well; uncovering vent covers, raiding clotheslines, and stopping murderers from feeding the pigeons here. There will be no Birdman of Shirley or Birdman of GardnerWorld with Note-Ass and Hands-Of-Sin at the watch! "Paul" will undoubtedly place himself in "harms way" over at GardnerWorld; if someone drops their eyeliner he may get caught in the mad rush to pick it up! Good luck over there Hands-Of-Sin and don't let the ShirleyWorld door hit you in the Ass on the way out!

- KEEFE MP3 PROGRAM PRODUCES "THEME SONGS" FOR SHIRLEYWORLD GUARDS

In an effort to increase music downloads for their MP3 program here at ShirleyWorld Keefe Kommissary Korp. (or KKK as we like to call them) are selling "Theme Songs" for ShirleyWorld staffers. Here are just a few;

I'm Going Down - Lt. Urine
Let's Get Physical - Coach Woodhead
Big Girls Don't Cry - Lt. Peckerwood
Fat Bottom Girls - Deputy Denied-Oh
Whiskey River - CO Scumlafia
Sex, Drugs and Rock & Roll - Rubber Stamp Wry-On Suicide Solution - Mental Health Staff
In My Time of Dyin' - HSU Staff

Good ole KKK will come up with some new titles and we will be certain to make them available on this blog. Many prisoners with health problems and mental health issues have been "singin' the blues" here at ShirleyWorld for years, unabated, but now at least there can be a "soundtrack of their lives" to slowly die by. Do you hear that? It's the sound of the world's smallest violin playing while Deputy Denied-Oh complains about a prisoner inviting government officials into the prison to show them her reign of madness. Some surprises are on the horizon and we will song our theme song "Revolution" loud and proud!

More To Come...
