Dear Amelia;

So I got a Brain Picker shouting me little stury lines ↓
Well what does a Man say to a time felt message.
I guess the proper thing to say - Thank you. I needed
your kind words. strange thing to say - But believe me
I needed to some soft spoken words. I guess people call them whispers, Huh?

So Psychology student - do you need me to study? I'd be willing to work with you. I don't have much else to do you know. I wished that if we were going to bond - ~~the~~ the Master & Slave Scenario
we could correspond privately - I have some serious issues Amelia - Things that have taken place in prison and need not being read by the world, I do have a question too - so who assigned you to me.
And for what purpose Amelia.

I'm glad your spirital - At least that's the impression I got from your message. Right or wrong? See I too have questions.

Do you have a P.O. Box we can write to one another through?

You mentioned that you believed that theres
good in all people - That might be true But how much mink has to be removed before one can see it???

Yes Amelia I'd enjoy talking with you - It would be a whole lot easier if we had a Box of donuts and a freshly brewed pot of coffee to chat over - Always makes things easier when you mix food into the equation

I'm getting old Amelia - Almost 54... I take it you're a young lady. I base that on your a student 😊 I don't think you'd find an older person like me studying much of anything than staying sane ← I made a funny 😊 Yeah! Every once in a while I get lucky and say a funny gesture.

Okay teacher - How would you like to start this Lead me & I'll follow - Text book style - free style What would you like to know?

I'll stop here - keep in mind Amelia I may be an open book or half closed - That depends on how we correspond. And my friends call me J

With that said

I look forward to attending your class
