"Sisters"

I'm so lucky to have "2" sisters that love me. It's been "25" years since we got together but it's like we've never been apart. They have been coming every week since I've been transferred from Corcoran to Folsom. I didn't realize how much I had missed them both. I've learned a lot about their families - a lot of good stuff and some horrible stuff. Yes! I missed so much of what life is all about. Family God's gift for sure. An unconditional love exists - even when we aren't aware of how blessed we are - Guess what we are...
