Too, do

I have only a few years left in here. That's good, but,,

What should I do then? any Ideas? ANY?

I've Been To College — for welding Tech, been Through 40 hours of osha Training on Construction and 40 hours of osha Training on Industrial, am in electrician School now & have many employability Certificates

I've done my Best To make my Time Here 100% Educationally Productive Some of The Tests are So hard.

I found more often I pace around consumed by worry about being a failure

IF I'm Not Already!

I need To find A friend or Two before

That day comes...
