

WODZP (WRITE OR DIE ZINE PROJECT)

ABOUT THIS BLOG

I want to invite you to follow my blog in the coming months where I'll be posting updated information about WODZP (WriteOrDieZineProject), comments/editorials, and exclusive excerpts from the WOD zine series.

Each excerpt is either an article, interview, poem, or commentary I've selected and arranged with the intention of giving you a fast-track overview of our back issues, as well as the smaller off-shoot zines, and the development of the WOD zine series over the last 4 years since our first issue.

I expect to continue posting these excerpts from now on. Back issues and current WOD zines. BTB (betweenthebars.org) offers features that give me plenty of great ideas. Providing WODZP an online platform (beyond our prison-based circulation & readership) is invaluable, and those of you who've already been actively transcribing and posting comments via @GOLGOTHA has influenced the innovation and resourcefulness of WODZP, and that's something I'd like this blog to reflect.

HOW TO RELAY YOUR COMMENTS

Because I can't access BTB, read and reply to comments directly, the best way to relay your comments is by retrieving the "REPLY CODE" from your post and sending it along with your comment via (A) snailmail letter or post card (no return address necessary), or (B) via the WODZP Gmail address as noted below. In either case, I'll respond accordingly and as soon as possible. Take care.
