Hello Everyone,

Whats going on? How has everyone been?

Well, its been awhile since I wrote in, and hopefully now, I'll be doing it more often. I've been down and out, and not up to doing anything but reading and laying in bed. Like a comrade, Brother Terrence 'T.A.' Alderly said: we been more into distractions, both the government and the administration here, want us to be on, then on the reality of the real picture. Thanks to Brother Anthony, and the zines of information he sent me, it re-motivated me to get off my @ss and get @ctiv @gain.

So this is my first post and written letter to the outside, on my thoughts, ideals and goals. Your comments are most welcomed, as well as any information you can provide or send me. Im not perfect, so tell and show me when Im wrong and provide me with proof and what you believe to be correct. We can debate, discuss or whatever you want. But, and this is important, dont be a coward and leave degrading and disparaging remarks without identifying yourself. Everything is open for discussion here. You have three options to contact me: you can either write me directly by snail mail or pay.com or leave a message here. Either way I want to hear from you.

Saying all that, Im going to start using my blog page as a platform to tell everyone whats going with me and others on the McConnell Unit, what the laws of this gulag are doing (or not doing). I want to discuss subjects I hear on the radio or read in the newspapers (if I ever get to read any). And I want to discuss the illegal tactics of an illegal government. Everything is open for discussion... except gossip, such as what such-and-such (actors/actresses) is doing... This is NOT a gossip page. Im in search of knowledge (not propaganda), ideas and honest thoughts, from different perspectives on everything... If you only want to gossip and/or cause dissention, Do Somewhere Else.

My goals are to create a thinking group or chapter whose intentions are to create a meaningful and better society, not just for ourselves, but for future generations to come. The government is only paying lip service when they could be actually doing something to bring this about.

I want to create a 'think-tank' to bandy ideas around, on what needs changed and why and how to do this now, not in the future.

Sitting in a cage, like a dog, as I am, 23 hours a day (lately 24 hours a day) gives a person alot of time to think, read and contemplate whats going on around them. This is what I do, because I have NO choice.

Being that you're on the outside, and probably never have been caged like a dog before, you won't believe what I tell you about this place. Shit, if I keep going with this blog, adding more posts, I don't give it long before Texas Department of (illegal) Justice retaliates by trying to shut me down or harassing me here in my cell. It wouldn't surprise me, because they monitor us every now and then. And I promise you, they won't like what I have to say or the things I want to discuss... because if the things they do stay in darkness, they can continue. Yet, if it's exposed to the outside, they will stop... for awhile, until the heat dies down.

Don't let these people scare you or use their scare tactics to discredit what I write. And I'm sure they'll place comments on here because they can be anonymous, and disrupt progress.

Here is a quote by Brother T.A.:

"The enemy of today is nothing more than a mirror image of the enemy of yesterday, with the only difference being an ~~evolution~~ evolution in tactics and strategies, as times have changed and technology has advanced. As @narchists, our tactics and strategies must advance with the times and the elevation of technology, or we will continue to suffer oppression at the hands of an ever-evolving repressive system."

Anyway, here's the first discussion topic I will discuss in my next post.

If you were appointed over a neighborhood that was in the poor section of town, that is run down, crime rampant, houses decrepit, people scared to come out for fear of both others and the authorities, what would you do, what would you create to change this neighborhood to become a place people would like to live?

Be realistic and thoughtful with your answer. What would it take to bring this neighborhood to a complete 180 degree turn. This includes every facet of the neighborhood...

Think about it and get back at me.

As I close, I want to send shout outs to all the comrades both men and women, who really dedicate everything they have, and live for, the oppressed. Anthony Rayson in South Chuggo, Coyote Shelf, and many more, I send out my love and respects to all of you. I'm open to corresponding with anyone, but am unable to write prisoners. If you have literature or anything that can educate me, please let me know. I can receive printouts from individuals, but books must come from bookstores or publishers.

Well comrades, thanks for your time. I hope you'll come back next time. Until then, keep up the fight and never give up.

Truely Yours,

Robley "BeAR" @BAM
