

cc Elderly Parole ss

Blogs/1346/

check this out there is a few bills in CA, that is up for a vote. The first one is elderly parole. A prisoner must be 60 years old and have 20 years in prison. If you qualify then the BPT will change your parole date and take you in front of the BPT for parole consideration.

There is a old man in here who walks with a walker he qualified. He had a sentence that was 45 to life or something like that. He wasn't eligible for parole for many years but he now qualified under elderly parole. They already changed his date to like 2 to 5 years until he goes in front of the BPT.

There is another bill that is elderly parole its you must be 50 years old and have in 15 years. I have 22 years in but im only 45. In 2020 I will be eligible for elderly parole if this bill passes. So far there was 3 votes in Feb 2 in March 1 in April and haven't heard any news yet. I will post the name and bill when I get time. I think its elderly parole 224.

As of today my parole date is 2055 but when this bill passes it will change to 2020 wow thats my life flashing before my eyes. I was sentenced to 68 years to life in 1994. So this bill will give me a chance at freedom. What ever "Gods" that you pray to please say one for me.

I have been living in cages going on 22 years and first and foremost this prison system hasn't broke me. The Elderly Parole Bill has given me hope at a time when I really need it. Being a lifer in CA, means you never get out. I thought that if you were sentenced to life w/out parole then you never get out but in CA, you can have 15 yrs to life and never get out.

I know someone who was sentenced to 7 yrs to life and he has 40 years in with only 1 write up and he still hasn't been given a parole date. The CDCR is a cruel cruel place to live. In the next 5 yrs or so the inmates who were given 25 yrs to life 3 strikers will be up for parole. Will CA, allow them freedom I doubt it.

I have been attending 2 AA Alcoholics Anonymous classes every week. The BPT has strict rules to follow and AA and NA you must give them or no freedom. They also want an anger management class. You must bring the BPT chrono's stating long term attendance. I'm doing what they want even though I'm not even eligible for parole until 2055.

I believe that the Elderly Parole Bill 50 and 15 will pass and become law and my date will change to 2020 so I can start going to board. Honestly I know that if the board grants me parole I will never commit a crime ever again. I have changed for the better and I'm ready for freedom.
