My Love:

6-4-15

I did post my 10 year denial 😊 I know long time. I have it marked down that I send it out on 4-1-15 with your reply "10" 74qb on it. The post you left your comment on I send out on 3-3-15 and the date it was posted was March 31, 2015. So lets hope you've read it that it was posted by now and you're thinking of words of comfort-encouragement for me 😊

If I had your phone # you could have known what happened the same day I went, then maybe you could have given me some words of encouragement at a time I was in shock over the amount of time. I've been on a downer since it happened. I have no one to talk to except my heart and when you're not there I'm lost. It's not about the time my love I've never thought I was ever getting out. It's the emptiness I feel without you - knowing that you are there for me. I could have written you a letter if you send me a P.O. Box # I can't say the things I want to say here. Loving me forever + ever is a good thing my love but withholding it leaves me lost.

I've not been able to call Linda since January she got a new phone or something, she hasn't answered any of my ~~letters~~ letters - she must be on a break to since I haven't heard from her since then. Did get to talk to Teddy for a few minutes a couple of day after the board but he hasn't been home to answer since.

You are my heart my light, my stay without you singing to me my ship just wanders in all direction without course or purpose, capable of breaking up, of being misunderstood.

Forever + Ever
