

Seven Reasons Donald Trump Should Be President

by Nate A. Lindell created 28 June 2015

1. He's not a career politician. But he is a career leader & has been very successful at it. A president needs to be a leader, not a politician.

2. He'll tackle illegal immigration & ensure we only get high-quality immigrants. No career politician can do so, or they won't have a career.

3. He promises to kick ISIS's ass better than any other candidate. (I'll volunteer for any suicide missions!) There's no more immediate threat to us.

4. He's not a religious fanatic. So, we don't have to worry about him imposing his morality on us. He's pragmatic, not dogmatic.

5. He's pro-education vs. incarceration... if he truly wants America to be great again, which I believe he is. As a hard capitalist, he will not suck prison-guard unions' dicks.

6. He'll pick the best & brightest for all of the positions he's responsible for filling. Remember "The Apprentice"? This is essential for Americans' interests.

7. The hair. Anyone who'll rock that wig in public has brass balls & deserves to be our President.
