Music has always been an essential part of my life. Even to this day, music is blasting in my ears 90% of the time in each day. As I write this, the artist "August Alsina's" album "Downtown: Under the gun", plays in my ears.

You can learn a lot about a person through the music he listens to. So to give you all a better understanding of me and who I am, I made a list of music I've listened to or listen to. My list will give you a view into where I came from, my past and present.

I hope you enjoy!
