HELLO WORLD!

Sorry for the slack updates. No envelopes and feeling a bit in a rut. But things are well - staying strong.

In 2-Days is our next GrahamVet meeting and I'm introducing a "sea song" since the Army and Air Force guys won't have that experience. This should be fun!

An amazing thing happened. An officer called me "sir" and he meant it! Often you are called sir, but by tone of voice and attitude you can sense it's a job requirement.

This Officer, an Army veteran, said it with a true respect in his voice and I could tell. I was really inspired by his kindness.

Trying to figure out how to keep these "short", but informative. A work in progress.

Until next time,

Tom P. Cully
