"DON'T CONFUSE TOTAL PEACE WITH ARROGANCE!"

Dear:friends

Hello! yea its me again sorry it has been so long since I have got off my ass and back to work.'smile'. Things in my life slowed me down a little I will not bore you with the details but i will tell you what I learned from it as I always do when a year of my life goes bye,I take the time to reflect on things .

Have you ever gotten so caught up in the web of life where you become a driod?and everything is GO GO GO!& there is no time to even breath, it seems.Thats where I found myself over & over this past year.No matter how much energy I spen on blandin in,with every one I have found it only made the haters try harder to disrupt my peace.

Total peace Appears to radiate off as Arrogance to people, are looking at me from afar.It does not bother me to much untill that misinterpretation seeps into my inner circle of trusted associates.I have been blessed in many ways in my life and I was raised bye people who said what they ment and done what they wanted & made them happy.

I have found friends who treat me like one of there own kids.And with no judgement, often more then those who's blood is mine.and thats fine cause I have given my all to the TO A power far greater than myself.and once you do that I found that all you need will be given to you,and not how you would think or want and some time you may not even notice the blessing at all.

BUT we have to constantly remind ourselves of the turth we have grounded ourself in whatever yours maybe.I belive now that when GOD said he would re-new our strenght thats what he already knew!That the haters will never stop trying to robb you of your PEACE.Cause nomatter what you do there will always be HATERS.

THERE ARE TWO TYPES OF DEATH ROW PRISONERS: THOSE WAITING TO DIE, AND THOSE WRITING TO LIVE.

WHAT ABOUT THE SEEDS?

WHEN DID WE STOP WATERING THE SEED?

We are all in a rush to get to nowhere, when was the last time you set down with your kid or kids and had a positive conversation 'NOT AN INTERROGATION. When was the last time you told your kid how much you love them, or that you are proud of them? When was the last time you set down at the dinner table with your seed, if anybody still does that?

I bring this up because I have come to see that I too have a role to play, as a seed buried [locked away] don't mean it can not bare fruit. The world has given up on us they don't see us they have written us off, their callous attitude has led to what we see happening to the last few generations.

Naive and antisocial kids, filled with anger, hostility and bitterness, self-hatred, a shrink would call it DEPRESSION. But that's a fallacy! OUR SEEDS [KIDS] JUST WANT TO BE LOVED TOLD THAT THEY MATTER, THAT WHAT THEY FEEL IS BEING CONSIDERED, A PART OF THE FAMILY AND BIGGER PICTURE, A SIMPLE HUG SAYS A LOT.

The video games show no emotions, it has gotten sad so sad that people would rather text you than talk to you on the phone. We are robbing our seeds of the human experience of connecting with other people and most importantly FAMILY. I BEGG YOU PLEASE

NO MATTER HOW AWKWARD OR EMBARRASSING IT MAY START OUT TO BE DON'T GIVE UP, YOU GET OUT WHAT YOU PUT IN. WHAT YOU INSTILL IN THEM IS THE TRUTH THEY WILL CARRY WITH THEM ALL THEIR LIVES, TRUST ME. LOVE DON'T COST A THING, NOR DOES A HUG AND POSITIVE ENCOURAGEMENT. BECAUSE IN THE END IT IS OUR LIVES EXPERIENCES THAT MAKES US WHO WE ARE AND STRONGER.

Seeds need to be watered in order to grow, and even buried seed can still produce good fruit, if given half a chance.
