It's 5:30 AM on Sat morning. I've been up since 4:30 AM. I didn't get in last night until 9:15 PM.

The institution I am at we have fundraisers and I am one of the chosen few who issues it out to the compound. I make it sound easy but believe me it is a lot of work. The fundraiser this time was Trail Mix from wal-mart. The institution raised 40 thousand dollars for Christmas wishes so 20 grand (which is half) will go to children so they can have a good Christmas. The coolest thing about this is that on Monday 12/22/2015 we wrap the presents for the kids. I know it may seem crazy to some people when they read. Fundraiser, prisoners wrapping Christmas presents. But I am at 100% of the mill institution. Okay, enough about giving back. "Oh wait a minute"

I want to share that even though its Christmas time I still feel like I am a part of something that's so much more bigger then what I am.

ITS A positive thing. I love my life And the woman that I have become I have been incarcerated Since 2009 I had a bad drug and alcohol addiction. Coming to prison it saved my life. I will write more tommorow.
