

"Never give"

3-1-16
Jonathan White

I Wake up "everyday" and I'm thankful for a chance to show that, regardless of everything I endure, I'll never give

A lot of people start the day off with a negative mind state, and believe the untrained tongue when it spits out curses and strife while in the same sense should uplift our fellow man a woman whom daily the world throws blows harder than the swiftest puncher (Ali*) in his Prime but together still we shine Unity so
I stress never give

Please tap into your core strength that comes from within  depend on yourself, and lead, not follow dare to be; more than a misconception, not ever settling for less simply because people tell you, you're not good enough when we're all destined for greatness, we've got to learn patience and be grateful for all the blessings and remember 'never give'. !!!!!!
