

February 23, 2016

Is it Rape or Mishap?

This article is for teenage girls and boys, who is entrapping innocent people with statutory rape or molestation. The word for today is acceptance, can cause a world of trouble. At the age of 13 years old - I felt like nobody cared about me. I was ignored ~~my~~ majority of the times. So I begin to search for acceptance no matter whether it was good or bad. I begin having sex with a 17 years old man. I lied about my age because any other way I would have not had a chance. I was loving the affection and gifts. After that I started to see it worked. So I tried it on some more older guys. It continue to work. My mom got a wind of it from somebody. That I was going with 17 years old man. Which I denied it. But I did not know he force me to do this. In life you cannot help who you're attracted to. When ~~puberty~~ puberty kicks in. Things happen to your body. Do that mean you less than a human no. God created us to be sexual beings. It's the way we handle things. Have I ever been attracted to any of my teachers. Yes, I had this Physical Education teacher. I thought he was drop dead gorgeous. Did I ever go there, no. Because I knew that he was there to do a job. I would never put anyone job in jeopardy. We all had to go through puberty. Really it's no joke. But it's a right and wrong way to do things. Right way is to date within your age range because why? Even if you 13 years old. you decided to go out with a 17 years old. ~~Because~~ Her or Him can be charged with statutory rape or molestation. Which I feel is so stupid. Because these are children. As long as they are teenagers. Why trap them into this penal system with the foolishness. There was

A situation; with my two sons. where some girls (teenagers) set up a trap. My sons was teenagers. so the girls went and lied to the police about what happened. They charge one son with molestation. The other one with statutory rape. I went ballistic. Because the girls got caught slipping out of the group home. They lied on my sons. after was all the charges was dropped on my sons. Come to find out. These same girls had put one boy in prison. Did this same thing in another state to other teenage boys. Now they are trying free these people.

I've been that fast teenager as they say in the South. But I have never lied on anyone. I admit that I was wrong for lying about my age and putting those men in harms way of the law. It's wrong to deceive people. Well kids today is a new day for you. If you are that teenage girl or boy who has sent an innocent person to jail or prison for molestation or statutory rape whether it be your teacher or whomever. Please come forth. Tell the truth. There are people who are raping and molesting ~~that~~ for real that needs these beds in prison. When a person is convicted of a sex crime. For the rest of their lives they are ~~marked~~ marked in the worst way. This is no joke to be label as a sex offender for the rest of their lives. People will admire you more if you come forth with the truth. I lived out of fear. To my teenagers stop looking for acceptance in the wrong ways. Get around positive people. That's going to lead you to a road of success.

written by

Jennifer Johnson

Is it rape or mishap?