♡♡ Tigana my love ♡♡♡

I got the posts up to the 29th yesterday. Arthritis is bad right now do to dampness in the air; toe; knee; hip; shoulder; but its my hands & fingers that are the worst - they hurt - cant close my hand to hold anything or make a fist without a lot of pain. It hurts to hold & push down on this pen but I wanted to get started ♡ on a note for my heart. Sorry to hear about your friend's passing. I can only imagine the loss his wife feels after 60 years together. I've been watching the reports of the tornado; the snow; the continuing rain, you being so far away I worry. 9:10 AM were lock up today for some reason but its raining outside anyway as much as I would like to I cant let myself walk in it, to hard on my arthritis so I can write a little or a lot all day ♡ IMO I have a hard time figuring out the meaning of just letters I dont see all the time. Cella is my notifye person and I'm sure she will notifye you. I dont know if anyone will be there to let me know if you go first. I think I'll be able to feel it in my heart when youre no longer there. I haven't heard from anyone except the post since the last post. I think Ted would like for you to call him - you are his family. I am finishing up a nice painting, maybe today - 2 weeks as I can only paint a little at a time but I'm really liking all the extra details I'm using now. I just got back from seeing the RN for my arthritis - she gave me 200mg ibuprofen and 325mg acetaminophen tablets and put me down to see the doctor in a couple of weeks. Its starting to come down hard right now - the ragor wind dancing outside my window like lovers at daybreak - I miss you even more on days like this - the warmth of you against me your breath on my neck - the sounds of the wind & rain hitting the car as we move along our own highway. Know that you are always with me, that I am always with you in one another heart. I'm going to stop for now my love, rest my fingers. I promise to try to keep up with a post every week. For now my heart I always love you as you fill my days warm my night. I miss you right now - know that I am there with you comforting you in your heart & dreams.
