

Catch a fly

This year election is awful. I can not vote but I can give my opinion. Presidential election is about what is best for America, the people, government and national affairs. I have felt like the race has been about who is going to get the throne and reign. We don't need nobody being our president that is going to sell American people a steak but when you get on the throne, you only thinking about self and what you want. We need somebody who is going to do what is best for America, the people, government and national affairs.

Donald Trump needs to catch a fly. Fly away because he is not a good candidate because he has done too much. Tearing other people down like they are his trash. Acting like he is greatest person that will ever rule. Every decision he said he would make would only lead to more destruction. America has already seen enough destruction and tragedy. We don't need nobody who will add more fuel to the fire. We need the fire to be put out completely.

In this election be careful who you vote for.
Pay close attention to the words coming out these candidate mouths. Stop accepting anything. Start making them accountable for what they say and do. Do not give them the president seat easy. Make them sweat and work for it. So when they do get there. They will appreciate it. Do your home work on each candidate? So when they lie. you can hold them accountable.

My pledge to Candidate who are running for presidential election:

If you're not running because you truly have the American people, government or national affairs best interest at hand. It would be best if you be honest with self this is not for me. I am going to be honest with self and others. This is not about adding another milestone to your resume. This is about being responsible others lives and well being. Every decision is made by you is going to affect the American people and government.

My challenge to American people. People who are voting for these candidate. It's time to turn up your demands for them to be the next president. Come up with questions at these rallies that would shake them up. Make them think about why I am I truly running for president. We need to weed out the ~~one~~ ones who do not need to be running like Donald Trump. who is promoting violence and putting people down. America has enough violence without Donald Trump help.
