

1. California On Blast

On it's face, this self admission by way of the historical chronological order of events exposes the method and pattern designed to MISUSE the System worked on US. (refreshing CDCR online history)

When Don Novey combined Youth Authority Supervisors and Parole officers with prison guards, He single handedly made a $923 million dollar entity worth 5.7 Billion dollars from 1985 to 2004.

Look at those dates and tell yourself why this is not the height of The Crack era, The bloodshed, the violence, increase in guns on the streets of inner city communities.

The Creepy part is how he created a pipeline for Children and Minors under Juvenile Detention supervision to be escorted directly into prison, where the Parole agents are free to roam the streets and re-arrest, and act as Hunters/slave catchers to fill Don Novey's plantations/prisons that soared from 13 in 1985 to 31 prisons by 1995. (Nigga say what?)

Don Novey, is a capitalistic genius, it's all business and even if we exclude Black people as being 'the enemy', Don Novey's Model is the exact same as the Model used by his forefathers to enslave the Negro race, now, heres a word that should sound familiar by now, especially since the word has been traced to the word that means Black in Latin, still end up full circle at, Black people.

But look, remember, it's not against the law in America to be black, so brace yourself as we show you pages from The California Penal Code, looks like your boy Don Novey had some great lobbyists, check the dates, and the language used to describe our inner city youth.

These two California penal code citations are what we call "Designer Laws" which by the way gives light to those who are familiar with the term we've used in our other time issues, called, "Street Level Crimes".

So in 1988, Don Novey and his friends in the California Legislature body started calling inner city youth of America's "Terrorist", and "Criminal Street" gangmembers.

In the history of America, only one group of people have used the names of streets in their identification as gangs, in fact, gangs are a fact of human nature in many different cultures around the world, however, only American inner city youth identify with "Street culture".

Notice the language "Street Terrorism Enforcement and Prevention Act" by the legislative body, describes our youth as "Criminal Street Gangs" by way to state for a fact that all Street Gangs started to operate and continue to operate for the sole purpose of terrorizing the "peaceful citizens" of their neighborhoods.

Who better than to funnel drugs and guns to them a bunch of Criminal Street gang/terrorist in a so-called War on Crime climate authored by the ~~the~~ very source from which the drugs and guns came from.

If the death toll had not been factored into the original design, we suffer from more than mere neivete.

If life without the possibility wasn't factored into the original design, we must be blind.

If Special Circumstance #22, which makes inner city Youth death eligible wasn't conveniently added into the original design, then the rest of us are either stupid, conditioned to support, or could care even less.

Nonmatter what your position is on the Death Penalty, you may want to inquire why #22 is the only one on the list that appears in bold print in the Penal Code.

OR how did street level crimes become so important in 1978? Now that year sounds familiar to those that are aware of the Stanley "Tookie" Williams story, eh, dont trip, I'm also including an interview of his last words with this work so you are able to gauge how his generation of inner city Youth was the 1st wave of Black Men to be unsuspecting victims of this horrific grand design to literally, legally murder inner city Youth, and get paid billions of dollars to capture and execute a new generation of inner city Youth, for which I am one of many.

I began engaging this creative writing project with a 3 part article in the very 1st issue of the Write or Die Time Project, titled "New Generation Pt 1, 2 & 3;" I want to push at you a quote from my own work back in 2011 from New Generation Pt, 2.

I couldn't wait to respond to Pionkhi's call to be expressive from the position of condemned status because the word Nigger has interrupted our progress as a people way before millions of Youth fell victim to the over all grand scheme to continue supremacy over what continues to be considered, by way of action, and not words, unequal on earth.
