

THE NORFOLK CHRONICLES

- GREEN CHICKENHEAD TO BE AUDITED / KICK-BACKS SUSPECTED

Free Speech Central has learned that a group of concerned citizens is requesting that the financial history of the NorfolkWorld Food Services Director, The Green Chickenhead, be conducted by the IRS. It appears that this group has uncovered information that the Green Chickenhead has been accepting kick-backs from some of the food distributors who sell him rotten food and unsalable goods.

It is well known that the Green Chickenhead brags about his jewelry and new clothes to Stockholm Syndromed coms, and has even been heard to detail the new car he has and his wife (possibly his husband) has. "It appears he is living above his means and we have implored a citizens group to ask for a formal investigation.", said one of the lifers' held in Death House Unit 2-2 here at NorfolkWorld. Possibly the IRS can have The Green Chickenhead cash in some of his baubels and trinkets as a pay-back for serving us slop for all these years.
