

CHAOS IN AMERICA

Page 1.

July 8, 2016

I open extending my deepest condolences to the families of the two african americans who were tragically murdered by police in Baton Rouge, LA and St. Paul, MN.

I also will like to send my condolences to the families of the five police officers, who were gun down in Dallas, TX, while honoring their duty to protect us. My regards are extended to all impacted by the tragic shooting in dallas. Such a sad week in america.

While our country leaders sit comfortably in their amazing homes, in their gated communities. Bodies are dropping in our streets. Whether it be some ISIS inspired mad man shooting the innocent, or a white supremacist walking into a church and gunning down african american's as they praised their Lord, to the war between minorities and Police. America is in CHAOS! What is our country leaders doing about any of this? They come out and give these heart-felt speeches and then retreat to their gated communities, that's about it. Where is the leadership?

Something has to be done to unite our country. How do you unite our country, I have no clue, that's the job of our elected officials. Who seem to do alot of talking and very little action.

It is 2016 and racism is alive, well and thriving! This is the product of our leaders inability to govern impartially. Politics, money and power continues to hamper racial relations in america. Our political leaders are servants to their personal interest. This is evident by the support the disgusting

Donald Trump and Hilary Clinton are getting from prominent political leaders. Trump nor Hilary qualify to be president. However, they know the right people so we suppose to ignore Hilary's lies and Donald's bigotry. This is why our country is falling apart. Our leaders are too worried about their political obligations, and maintaining their status amongst their establishments. They attend to our needs, when they are politically motivated, but often just say what they think is politically correct.

Following the police killings in Dallas, President Obama called the Dallas shooter a coward. While I have no issue with the President's comments, my issue is, where is this strong language when police officers gun down innocent Americans on camera? The President's job is to govern impartially. But his comments display his bias. This empowers the us against them narrative. Consequently, when people feel their back is up against the wall, they have the tendency to lash out, get desperate and chaos erupts. This is precisely what's going on in the United States. Minorities, Muslims, immigrants and the LGBTQ communities are all being attacked one way or another by elected government officials. If this trend continues, historic and devastating tragedies will become a regularity in the United States. When our country slip into a civil war, those gated communities will not be exempt. So our leaders need to wake up, perform their duties and unite our country, before the chaos lands at their door steps!

Owe no one anything except to love one another, for he who loves another has fulfilled the law."
(Roman 13:8)

I close encouraging love, Peace and patience!

Stay Prayed up!
