RE: STILL ON STRIP CELL. (POST).

I DON'T KNOW what these guys are tripping on here, I've been in many different SHU units and they never took months to give us our property.

It's going on two months now, and it's not like it's just me being targeted, they do everyone like this.

I believe the property officer just wants everyone to know that he will issue out stuff whenever he feels like it.

Someone here let me borrow a book series "Game of Thrones"

I never got a chance to read them, had opportunities tho, just never had time, now I do ☺ I usually don't read this type of stuff, but it's okay. Long books tho, over 1100 pages each one. But I finished book 3 and that's all I had.

I spend most of the day reading or drawing, this Native American guy asked me if I'd draw him something before he goes home in a few weeks. and he did me some justice when I arrived assisting me with writing paper, and some cosmetics.

He's also my exercise partner when we go to the yard, I miss the Ad-seg. unit I was at though. we didn't have pull up bars like here, but the food was better over there, and they had some pretty ladies over there and that's always good.
