- "AUDIT MADNESS" RETURNS TO NORFOLK WORLD / FOOLS REIGN SUPREME

That much cherished yearly opportunity to abuse old and dying has returned to NorfolkWorld and the guards could not be happier. You see the prison has to undergo an "audit" for public safety, DOC oversight, and national accreditation from time to time. What this means is that about every six-months they are "auditing" the prison; for prisoners what it means is that you will be harassed, have your property stolen, and will be subjected to the Water Bottle Task Force and Clothesline Strike Force for about two weeks before the "audit". It is all just one big joke. They put "Lipstick on the Pig" (no I am not talking about our own Medusa) by waxing floors, washing windows, and hiding the cops chewing tobacco, smut mags, backroom liaisons to play hide the correctional salami. No one says boo about the refusal to treat cancerous tumors, the need for job training or viable reentry housing. You have two men living in a bathroom sized cell and they cops want to come around and tell us to put our meager property "away"; there is not space for the two men let alone their property. You have a laundry service that destroys any clothes sent to it, but when men choose to wash their own clothes their clotheslines are seized like they were Columbian marching powder coming across the border! Where's Donald Trump's wall when you need it? Cops like CO Hartung, CO McGinn, and CO Zwicker were smuggling in suboxone, K-2 synthetic marijuana, cell phones and Seiko watches for years, but the Brain Trust is worried about who has "paperwork" stacked up next to their bed. Recidivism is at 47% but they concern themselves with empty water bottles accumulating or beds not properly made. This is modern "corrections" and trust me there is NO correcting coming from the gulag Nazis. Thank God some prisoners choose to help each other or the ship would be a total loss. This audit season is just an opportunity for sadistic abusers to have an excuse to torture the downtrodden. Too bad the kids will just hit the field, smoke a blunt of K2, and plan their next crimes while the older convicts just wait around to die. Audit that you dregs of humanity!

- WELDING CERTIFICATION TAKEN AWAY / COMPUTER CLASS CLOSED - GUNS GIVEN OUT

In an planned effort toward frugality the NorfolkWorld Brain Trust has decided to defund the Welding Certification Program and close the Computer Skills class. One High Ranking NorfolkWorld layabout, known as Scary Medusa was quoted, "We just have to accept that recidivism is 47% and stop wasting money that could be spent on salaries for programs and jobs skills." Another NorfolkWorld suit proposed, "We will just hand out pistols as men leave the institution. This way we can get them back faster without society having to bare the burden for too long." Welcome to NorfolkWorld Dante: "Abandon all hope, yee who enter here!"
