

Blog 4 Women

1-13-16

2 whom it may concern, I'm just like U. Though I'm a male I 2 believed that God didn't (doesn't) care about women as much as He did 4 men.

This belief scared the daylights outta me especially seen that I'm the father of a beautiful daughter.

I often wondered, how do I adequately encourage her faith in God, when I belief God places women 2nd? How do I encourage her 2 read a Proverb a day when it repeats the hashtag: My son...? Do I just tweak it 2: My daughter. N what about the accompanying sentiment of: A wise man...? does this or that?

What do I tell her about women? Don't want her 2 be raised thinkin she's property that can be sold 4 2 days equivalent of a shekel. How do I lovingly tell her that her body belongs 2 her husband - n - she doesn't have a voice or a guy so. Isn't that what the Bible teaches?

What do I in fact tell her. Tell her so that she may grow up 2 be a

• Godly God-fearin woman, w/ Godly self-esteem. How do I explain 2 her the ~~scriptures~~ patriarchal view point the scriptures were written in - n - ~~scriptures~~ how they R lived out in 2 days society?

How do I answer the inquisitiveness of her femininely childish heart that ~~was~~ with innocent intent ask - "Daddy: Is God sexist?"

Having no familiarity with the Bible, her thought process is supremely rooted in - "I heard..."
"N - "My friend... said..."

Well the best way, would ~~be~~ B 4 me 2 dig in the word - n - find things out 4 myself then hand the honest 2 God truth down 2 my daughter. Amen. Not only her, but my ~~mother~~ ^{mother} sisters Gaby, Friends N 1 day my wifey.

So here's some scriptures - n - insights I came across --
