For many years Massachusetts prisoner George Nassar had been wrongly portrayed in the media as possibly being "The Real Boston Strangler." This was recently debunked when one of the strangler victim's DNA was matched to that of the real Boston Strangler, Albert DeSalvo. Some still accuse Nassar of being the strangler, but there exists more to the story than that.

George Nassar, in cooperation with Free Speech Centray and Timothy J. Muise, recently launched a website which will shed light on the criminal American justice system; yes that is right the "system" is criminal and that is why men like George Nassar can be alleged to be the Boston Strangler.

www.georgenassar.com is a broad topic based website which will detail many aspects of that criminal system. The laws of the land have been subverted for decades by the very people duty charged to uphold them. The site presents commentary and articles that elucidate what the contributors feel are the essential learning tools toward understanding the "system". It does its best to educate and inform, with the ultimate goal of bringing the "issues" to the court of last resort; that being the court of public opinion.

For decades Nassar and other "rights warriors" have attempted to expose the corruption that has led to the "law enforcement industrial complex", but had an uphill battle. Now with the widespread availability of electronic media Nassar, Muise, and the other Free Speech Warriors hope to raise their voices to a fever pitch. They will shout the crimes from the electronic rooftops!

George Nassar is 83 years old and has been in and out of health in the past couple of years. He has entrusted his legacy and information to the men at Free Speech Central who will do their best to get the valuable information out there. A system which keeps men in prison for decades without any hope for compassion is destined to diminish all which this great nation stands for. We are a society based on second chances, and the respect for law, and this new prison industrial complex believes in neither; it is all about making money off the underprivileged and marginalized.

Our hopes are that you will visit www.georgenassar.com and digest some of the content. Leave your thoughts here on RealCrimeBlogger so that we can begin an open dialogue. The use of free speech is essential in the war to correct the crimes of the law enforcement industrial complex. Help us shout the failures from those electronic rooftops while getting involved in the push to expose the crimes against humanity and God!
