

Irish Soap Journal

11-17-16

I miss you my love ☺

Notes - Rambling Poetry - Short Stories - Art - Ball - Steve
 You pulled the blanket off me during the night,
 I woke up cold before 4 this morning so don't complain about my cold hands and feet ☺

"Don't come in here crying, if you can't run with the big dogs, stay on the porch."

Expressions of gratitude make partners feel more responsible for one another's well-being and more satisfied with the relationship. I'm grateful for every day I've known you. Thank you for always being you and always loving me. I love you.

Not hearing from anyone can be unbearable at times.
 I'm not afraid of thunder and lightning. I wait for and embrace the bright flashes and loud booms. It's being alone that scares the hell out of me!

Start everyday with a smile and share it.
 When I was a child I was given my identity by others. Now, I'm finding my own truths about who I am and you are a large part of that search and who I am. Without you I would be to scared.

Art is nothing if you're not obsessed.

No sound is better than hearing a friend's laughter.

I sometimes wonder if its all worth it. I get lost in the longness and I no longer care about the spelling of the words. Wiping tears from ones eyes can be tiring taking up all your time.