

Convicted Criminal By: FV-1 — ©2016

I'm a keeper! But it seems he's not my brother!
instead of being united, we fight with each other.
The life I live, ain't what you really think,
I take off my shirt, and I'm blasted with prison ink.
I'm a criminal, and I've been convicted,
it's 3 years, 7 months, before these chains are lifted
off of my wrists, that's connected to this ball,
that I drag everywhere I go, behind the prison wall.
I got 2 arson convictions, and they yell out "FIRE BUG!"
I must admit, I'm ashamed at who I was.
Dealt me a bad hand, I'm glad I didn't get life,
surrounded by criminals forever, but I do have 2 strikes.
Being convicted, bets believe, the jobs will be short,
cause of my criminal record, and convictions from a court.
Some call themselves convicts, and caught up in the pen,
you never win! if you come to prison again and again.
I have too many tattoos, and my hair is getting thin that I have to go bald, takin all the insults in.
If you lookin 4 trouble, it's not hard to find,
believe they got a place, where they'll keep you confined.
They don't hear me! Like all my words are subliminal, they don't trust me! why? cause I'm a convicted criminal!
