Hello Beautiful People (& those Marilyn Manson rep'd)

Here's what I've been up to:

1) Connected with the head astro-some-thingist at the Harvard-Smithsonian Observatory. Another super nerd, good dude too. He's helping me with the cosmology aspect of my critique of A Case for a Creator, although he's a practicing Jew. Curiously, we have the same moral/ethical conclusions, even though I'm an Atheist.

2) I'm behind a massive push to get WI prison officials indicted for illegally taking our money, for criminal court fees we've already paid or that don't even exist (e.g. I'm being obliged to pay $38 in restitution for Case No. 97-CF-140, when the court specifically refused to order restitution!). We're pushing for racketeering charges, as it's being done to tens of thousands of prisoners. Insane, but true.

3) My best friend, Archelle, finally set up my instagram page. Like this blog, it's PrometheusWrites. Check it out. Lotta stuff will be on there not allowed on here... two poetry books, horror stories, etc.

4) People, if you're able to, step up & order me some paper and postage paid envelopes so I can blog, write newspapers & other activism. Anyone, even those overseas, can order me paper & envelopes from:

www.JHMarcusWisconsin.com

Item #s 8039 (5-pack envelopes) & 4304 (typing paper). Archelle has helped me, but she not wealthy & I feel shitty leaning on her.

5) I'm back to writing my autobiography, after I finished illuminating a poetry book (Em Daer, Vol. 1) & some bad-ass art, which you can see on prisoninmates.com/NateLindell303724, &

which Archelle will soon put on instagram.com/PrometheusWrites

* Thank you!!! to all of you who transcribed or shared my posts, etc *
Helps get the truth about prison out!

There's 2 new posts behind this one!

6) If I said everything else I'm doing or have planned to do, you'd think I was manic. But, if you want to make actual changes (for the better) in WI's prison system, give me a holler, if you want to handle one project.

Now a little about my life in here. It's pretty nuts. The only two guys I speak with (mostly one, the litigator) are Black. One white guy I thought I was cool with (a Muslim, accused, justifiably, of organizing jihadist shit, which I didn't see eye to eye with him on) got all pissy when I press him to put some work in + write a newspaper about prison conditions; he started shouting lies, which others know are lies, like that I was lying about winning a suit that got a guy out of solitary confinement, just trying to shit on me. The other white guy I was rotating with, whom I was helping with a lawsuit, up + disrespected another guy (White, but Mexicanized) for no reason, which I won't condone, so I don't talk with that white guy: disrespect disrupts the solidarity we need in here to protect ourselves from the cowardly, bullying administration, which seeks to degrade us all.

Everyone else on the tier/range is morally insane, mentally ill, or not respectful, so I don't deal with them. It requires some intelligence to know that treating other people with respect will generally be good for you; it's better to have friends than enemies.

There are multiple young, obviously fatherless (a father would have showed these guys how to act like men, a good father anyway) Black guys here, from the inner city, who yell + argue with each other all day, and at night one, who previously seemed to act right, told me they're doing that to irk staff, which disrespects prisoners too - it's as stupid as smearing shit on your wall to protest mistreatment; all it does is justify staff's view that we're subhumans, unworthy of humane treatment.

That's it for now. Thanks for your support! Nate.
