- STELLAR MEDICAL CARE CLAIMS ANOTHER / LITTLE JON HITS THE QUAD

One of the 300 second degree "lifers" here, Little Jon, literally "hit the quad" the other day when he had a heart attack and fell to the asphalt out at mail-call. Little Jon had been complaining of medical problems for months, but as almost always is the case here at MCI NorfolkWorld Stephanie Kavourkian, our "H.S.A." (Health Services Asshole) here, refused to listen to Jon as his complaintis fell upon deaf (and certainly "dumb") ears. The nurses want to spend their day playing grabass with the guards and listening to them tell how this guy "is a skinner", this "guy is a rat", or "he thinks he is a tough guy", and then use these fantasy labels as a way to justify denying them treatment. We here at Free Speech Central don't know how they sleep at night but we suspect it is with plenty of Xanax and Jack Daniels. Little Jon had his "parole eligible" sentence converted into a "death sentence" by Ms. Kavourkian and her ilk over in the H.S.U. (Health Shut Up) Unit. The legislature recently passed a bill concerning how you have to treat farm animals, but they seem not to give two shits about human beings being denied medicalcare in prison. Very sad and a dark reflection on our society. God help Little Jon and all the prisoners of Massachusetts!

- ANOTHER LAYABOUT GUARD "WALKED OFF" THE WALLYWORLD CAMPUS

Well the other day another walker of "the toughest beat in the state" was walked off the NorfolkWorld/WallyWorld compound for misbehavior. Now the crack investigative unit here is staying tight lipped about the incident, but due to the oxygen wasting guard's nickname of "The K-2 Cowboy" we here at Free Speech Central think it might have had something to do with the abundance of synthetic marijuana that has been flooding the gulag. There is more smoke around here than cats at Scary Sherry's house! I'm certain this pig wanted to be the Pablo Escobar of the Prison K-2 Cartel, but being a real nit-wit with a badge got caught by the biggest bunch of keystone cops to ever dishonor a uniform. They won't pass out winter hats or gloves, but you can get K-2 by the bushel if you choose. Rehabilitation? We don't need no stinkin' rehabilitation!

- CONVICT FALLS THROUGH THE FLOOR OF PROBATION UNIT / HIS FAULT

The recently inspected and DPH cleared Probation Unit was the sight of a serious accident this past week. A convict fell through the floor up to his shoulders! The initial response from the WallyWorld brain trust: It was his own fault as he should not have been showering at that time! Unfuckingbelievable!! This shithole of a unit was just "inspected" by the DPH and this dude falls throughthe floor. They then house the men in a unit closed due to "gas line dangerousness"! You can't make this shit up! Fuck em'.

More To Come...
