Thank you for your thoughtful, inspiring words. This country needs more hope, love, and a sense of unity. I'm going to continue to educate myself on what's happening in the current shift in administration and will advocate for human rights for all in this country.

Thank you for your compliment on my writing. I am along with you on everything said in your comments. I am going to do the same advocate for human rights for all in this country. Thank you have a ~~great~~ blessed day
