I envision the laughter an memorable moment's driving you like, I owned it, pumping hard like piston's, until our bodies glisten you were my (mission impossible) this is starting to sound like a gospel, with every love came a new experience, all excess, the clearance to do what I pleased, luv this is how, it's supposed to be, Adam an Eve together we can achieve the American dream cause we could've "had" heaven right here on earth, so hello from the other side, to the Love's dive lost; (still single) !!
