

Gods' Promises ARE TRUE

Hello everyone, I want to share with you how God has blessed me. I don't go to commissary so everything I get is a blessing from God. Well my pod had not been to store in over 3 weeks so everyone was out of everything, especially coffee. Well someone blessed me with a bag of coffee and everyone in the dayroom saw me receive it. I smiled, opened the bag, made me a cup and then started going around the dayroom offering cups of coffee to everyone. Now a lot of them said, "I'll pay you back man!" or "I can give you a stamp!" I told them I didn't want them to pay me back or give me a stamp. I told them God blessed me so I could bless them. The next afternoon as I was putting the last shot of coffee from that bag into my cup someone came up to me and blessed me with another bag. Once again I went around the dayroom sharing my blessing with everyone. The next morning someone blessed me with 2 bags of coffee so I tried to share my blessing but they had finally let my pod go to store so no one needed any. The next morning a couple guys threw a bag of coffee each under my door. That afternoon someone gave me a bag of coffee at lunch and because of that I was able to bless a brother at church who didn't have any. Now right after I had been blessed with the second bag, one of my friends told me not to give all of that coffee away because it could be a while before I got anymore and most of the dudes I had helped out wouldn't help me. I told him I couldn't do that because it wasn't my coffee, it was God's and his children were in need, what kind of brother would I be to hoard what God gave me and not share it. Brothers' and Sisters' we can't give it away quicker than God can bless us, it's God's anyway and if we don't help those in need how are glorifying the Father. He blesses us so we can bless others. Anyway we have to trust that our loving and merciful Father will not let us do without if we ARE true AND faithful servants AND AREN'T we supposed to take CARE of each other. I challenge each AND EVERYONE OF YOU to give MORE THAN YOU NORMALLY DO, give it to those in need NO MATTER WHO they ARE AND let them KNOW God loves them. KNOW IN YOUR HEART THAT YOU CAN'T give AWAY MORE THAN God HAS, let the FATHER show the WORLD his LOVE THROUGH YOU. MAY God bless AND keep YOU ALL OF YOUR DAYS.
