

Flower of A Friendship

our meeting planted the seeds many years ago, we've lovingly nurtured to root a friendship, cherishing and grooming with all we've said-budding, blooming, and blossoming amid the flowers of one another's lives.

i am dearly appreciative that i've obtained the blessing of planting the seeds of friendship, to enjoy the sun they bring to illuminate my life.

i've grown to know that the flowers of old friends are the ones you dearly cherish and treat with cossetting care!

i'd not be ^{positive} to the truth of this statement without you.

may we ever lovingly nurture, and caringly tend our flower of a friendship so we continuously grow and enjoy one another life long...
