On this day I display my love for my (future Valentine,) by being honest and allowing her to let loose all restraints, don't hold back just take a leap of faith while, I caress her face, trace her body with "ice", be creative with (chocolate whip, cream) let me emancipate her desires, and become the fantasy she's dreamed of!?

I've told her "constantly," that I'll listen so that this wonderful experience last a life time in her mind, body and soul I want to control the pulse within, allow muscles to flex and contract, while we try to counteract, an loose balance focusing on the landing, sweeter than candy, stronger, smoother than aged "brandy" I need for her to comprehend that I'm more into fulfilling the void that's missing in any area of her life, I miss being able to kiss my 4eva friend gently on the lips, french kissin, deep fishing, finger's (itchin) twitching until they start cramp, or I'm completely exhausted from overdosing off of (my future Valentine)
