

LOVE STILL LIVES

I have been through so many changes over the years,

I have spent countless hours shedding so many tears.

I wonder Lord how long,

I'm still constantly doing wrong.

I pray and I hope for a new day,

Sometimes I can't find the words to say.

It seems so hard sometimes,

I wonder will it ever be fine.

My mind runs all over the place,

The look of pain is written all over my face.

Lord, what would you have me do,

I just can't make it without you.

He says to me, Hold on my son,

The battle is already won.

JESUS LIVES,

AMEN.
