(Real Talk Always)

- Companionship is a most-

Too many years go by without as much as a conversation from a "woman". This denial is eating at our male livelihood which in-turn causes the build up of aggression which is released through weight lifting and fights. This likely will stop us males from thinking about it for a while. But men are like animals in everyway, we need the "hunt". See when a man goes after a woman it's the chase that's attracting us. Everything from the acceptance to the rejection turns us on.

See when a animal has cubs, the parents teaches their cubs how to "hunt" and stalk their prey. It's also ~~taught~~ <sup>taught to</sup> them how to seek out female. That same life lesson is ~~taught~~ <sup>taught</sup> to us men. We see someone we like and we do everything to get them to like us back. But with the lack of "women" we are forced to stop the "hunt". And everyone knows when you've not done something for so long you lose those skills...

yes, their fast to say were Criminal and don't deserve to have Companionship. But its people out there beating their women everyday but they are allowed to have Companionship. No man in this world should be without a woman unless he is a danger to our women. Our main livelihood on this earth comes because of the God sent (Women) to be mans backbone and mans weakness.
