HELLO ALYSSA, thank you for taking the time to read my blog. Glad you liked them. Sorry I haven't written more but as you know sometime life gets in the way, but I will try to write more. No I don't mind answering your questions to help with your research. However I am a little apprehensive because I don't know how old you are asking these type of questions, and the last thing I want to do is be inappropriate if your under 18 yrs old. With that being said I'll answer your questions to the best of my ability.

What are ways that some men deal with missing women in prison? Some cry a lot !! (Smile) It's all about adjusting to the circumstances. Some try to put all of their energy mentally & physically into other things like studying law, going to school, working out to stop themselves from feeling anything for a woman easier said then done. Please don't underestimate the power of deprivation. I think prison makes a man appreciate the pure essence of a woman more.

Do you think men change not being around women? In what way do you mean Alyssa? I think it hardens a man soul and mental. Can I share a secret with you men don't like to admit this but women bring out a gentle side of us from the way we talk to y'all to the way we touch y'all body. Remember men & women were put on this planet to reproduce. So not being around women there's a bunch of (testosterone) filled macho non-sense.

How do you think this affects them when they are released? It can make some men truly appreciate a woman's beauty... Unfortunately it can also sadly make some aggressive towards women due to being deprived.

How do men deal with their "needs"? Ha, Ha, Ms. AJJ13 needs are all a state of mind. However I am going to hold off answering that one until I know your age okay. (Smile)

Do you think men become more reserved or don't know how to deal with a woman's "touch" when released? I don't think the answer is black & white as it may seem a lot depends on how long one was incarcerated most don't ever want to acknowledge it but men become institutionalize mentally and trained to shut off those desires towards women. Also depends on what happen during ones incarcerated for some it's not a easy road, some are preyed upon if they aren't strong minded. One may also be afraid of hurting you physically due to a lot of pent up frustration. However I would like to believe for the most part it would be like riding a bike once you learn.

Alyssa; I hope that I was some help in finding the answers you seek. If you have anymore questions feel free to write me my info is posted.

Kind regards,
Anthony
