Ms. Alyssa, I'm not shy so I'll answer your questions, I just hope no one else is offended.

1) What are ways that some men deal with missing women in prison?

* We try to have female pen pals who send photos, talk on the phone.

* We use to get XXX-porn which took the edge off our desires, but now we can only get Victoria Secrets style images of women.

* Masturbation is daily for most, some roll up their mattress and tie it together and use butter where its squeezed together for sex, there's also the plastic bags of hot water tied together with lotion.

* Depression is a big problem.

* The longer we go without the stronger we desire a woman's touch.

2) Do you think MEN change NOT BEING AROUND WOMEN? If so in what ways?

* MEN BECOME lonely, angry, violent, desperate, .....

* MEN NEED WOMEN for comfort, conversation, physical contact.

3) How do you think this affects them when they are released?

* It makes us NERVOUS BECAUSE WE get used to DOC drilling us with the idea its NOT okay to treat females as females in prison.

* Its hard to talk openly to women because we get use to talking to other inmates which is mostly offensive.

4) How do MEN deal with their "needs"?

* SEE question #1.

5) Do you think MEN BECOME MORE RESERVED OR DONT know how to deal with a woman's "touch" when released?

* It depends, but for me I have a huge urge to cuddle.

I don't have any new photos but there's supposed to be a YouTube video of me from 2 yrs. ago.

I don't blog much anymore, but, I will try more.

Attached is a soap sculpture I created, it's all soap. It's about 7 inches high, 9 inches wide.

Hope to hear from you soon.

Always,
David Troupe
