Subject: "Importance of Education"

In keeping with my New Year's resolution, I've engaged in a paralegal correspondence course since January. I registered with Blackstone Career Institute, a nationally accredited program that'll help me far into my future. The knowledge gained from this program will serve me well as I continue my fight against injustices, and possible employment once I'm exonerated of my wrongful conviction. Ever since I was little, all I ever wanted to do was help people.

The curriculum provides 10 volumes of study material with a test after each lesson. When I've completed the exam, I send my answer sheet to the school for grading. The school sends my grade via mail. I must complete all 31 exams with a passing grade to graduate and receive my certificate.

So far so good. I've completed 4 exams so far, but only received 2 grades, the other 2 are still pending. I've attached 2 of the letters containing my grades.

The work is hard, but very rewarding. I feel a sense of accomplishment. Being in here has made me feel like I have no purpose or future. This course has changed all of that. The course cost $767.00. I was able to raise the tuition with the help of some good people who believe in me. I thank them for their support.

Well it's back to the books for me. Education is the key to life, and I want to live.
